The Solace of Fierce Landscapes: Exploring Desert and Mountain Spirituality

By Belden Lane

Chapter 2 Places on the Edge

“A person is forced inward by the spareness of what is outward and visible in all this land and shy. The beauty of the Plains is like that of an icon....what seems stern and almost empty is merely open, a door into some simple and holy state.” -
--Kathleen Norris

“...desert and mountain terrain provokes the identification and reordering of boundaries. It confronts people with their edges.” ---Belden Lane, p.37

“....the place where a broken company is made into a community of promise.” ---
Belden Lane , p. 46

“Then Jesus was led up by the Spirit into the wilderness...” John 4:1
